Jocelyn Cano | Education Coordinator

High School: Lane Tech College Prep

College/Grad School: Dominican University/ Loyola University Chicago

Favorite Movie: Lilo & Stitch

Fun Fact: I love winter time, so much so that I watched the ball drop in Times Square in 2018 during what is now recorded as the second coldest New Years in Times Square. It was 10 degrees (minus 12 degrees Celsius) by midnight. I stood there for approximately 15 hours. Watching the ball drop in such a large group of adventure seekers has been one of the most unforgettable moments in my life.

What words of advice do you have Scholars and/or Alumni? Sometimes it can be hard to remember you are all connected by one great organization, especially in the busyness of your day to day. However, remembering this can be the key to seeking out that next adventure, that new opportunity, or that dream job. You are a part of a select group of people who share experiences with you and that is special. Sometimes it is easier said than done, and if you're like me you don't like the idea of networking. Someone once told me that instead of thinking about it as "networking" to think about it as adding people you want to your community. Building a community is so much more than just networking, so reach out to one another and create a community rooted in igniting each other's potential.
